

HOW TO VISIT A MUSEUM WITH PEOPLE WITH DEMENTIA

Through the cooperation of caregivers and curators / educators to a safe museum environment for people with dementia

STEP 1

Visit the museum or archive yourself and meet the staff who implement the program adapted to work with PwD. Find out more information about the duration and the way the program is carried out, about the space where PwD will be accommodated, about the proximity of toilets and auxiliary rooms, about lighting, about sound volume and everything that can become a challenge for PwD. For example: it will not be easy for people who have difficulty moving upstairs, and a room with too much sound will cause discomfort.

STEP 2

Prepare basic information about PwD. This information will be a valuable source on the basis of which an educated museum employee will prepare for work. This is information such as:

habits, mobility, sensitivity to lighting or sounds in the room, talkativeness, gesticulation and similar.
